ABSTRACT

Results of the AAMC's Annual Medical School Faculty Salary Survey for the fiscal year 1973-74 are presented. Such statistics as mean and median are presented nationally and regionally, and for the first time they are also presented by ownership (public/private), for each academic department and each rank, and according to nature of appointment. The data tables are set in matrix form with departments listed vertically and ranks horizontally. Each cell shows salaries expressed in thousands of dollars for the 20th, 50th, and 80th percentiles, the mean, and the number of responses in the field. The total population in this survey has increased over the previous year--from 16,492 (105 schools) to 27,830 (106 schools) full-time faculty. Of the latter, 20,669 are clinical department faculty and 7,161 are in the basic science departments. The total number of full-time faculty is approximately 35,000. All figures in this report represent salaries for budgeted positions; i.e., both filled and vacant positions. (Author/LBH)

FOREWORD

We are pleased to present the results of the AAMC's Annual Medical School Faculty Salary Survey for the fiscal year 1973-74. Although the format of this report differs markedly from that for previous years, such statistics as mean and median (shown as 50th percentile) are presented nationally and regionally, and for the first time they are also presented by ownership (public/private), for each academic department and each rank, and according to nature of appointment. The data tables are set in matrix form with departments listed vertically and ranks horizontally. Each cell shows salaries expressed in thousands of dollars for the 20th, 50th and 80th percertiles, the mean (average) and the number of responses in the field. Definitions and a key to interpreting the tables follows this foreword.

The total population in the 1973-74 survey has increased dramatically over the previous year - from 16,492 (105 schools) to 27,830 (106 schools) full-time faculty. Of the latter figure, 20,669 are clinical department faculty, while 7,161 are in the basic science departments. According to report to the Liaison Committee on Medical Education, the total number of full-time faculty is approximately 35,000.

Part of the explanation for the expanded field is the addition of more than 3,100 faculty of instructor rank; that rank was excluded last year because of insufficient numbers responding. Further, some 3,000 full-time medical school faculty associated with affiliated hospitals, where their professional activities are not under the direct auspices of the medical school, are included in the survey field. These affiliated faculty were not included as a separately identified group in previous years, and they are not included in the group reported at this time, but will be reported at a later date. We also attribute some of the greater participation to a simplified reporting and data entry process utilizing an optical mark reading system and to increased appreciation of the benefits of this activity.

All figures in this report represent salaries for budgeted positions, which are interpreted to mean salaries reported for both filled and vacant positions. Ninety-five percent of all budgeted positions were reported as filled at the time each school responded.

It should be noted that this year's study covers a considerably larger number of both basic and clinical science departments. The number of preclinical departments reported have been increased from five to nine with such additions as Biometry and Biophysics. Likewise, reported clinical departments have been increased from nine to seventeen by adding such units as Community Health, Family Practice and Urology. A distinction has been made between Pathology (Basic) and Pathology (Clinical), and both appear in the respective basic science/clinical science listings. It should be noted, however, that the salaries for faculty in Pathology as a basic science are not included in the total basic science departmental averages since the pathology salaries are not comparable to salaries in other basic science departments.

As a result of implementing this year a rigorous system of both automated and human edit steps and data reliability checks, supplemented by frequent staff communication between the AAMC and individual schools, the information in this report is regarded as an accurate reflection at the aggregate levels displayed. However, the accuracy on a school level is subject to occasional misunderstandings of definitions or instructions. Such misinterpretations probably occur more frequently in the task of identifying a faculty member first as full-time and then as to nature of appointment, i.e., SFT, GFT. Consequently, some 3,000 salaried positions representing a combined pool of SFT and GFT affiliated faculty are excluded from this report, and will be subjected to further analysis.

An additional area of concern to some revolves around whether the GFT salaries truly reflect total earnings. Although many schools whose clinical faculty are on a geographical full-time basis (by AAMC definition) do know and report the variable component from practice earnings as well as the base or fixed amount supported by the school, a number of institutions have revealed only the base portion. Of the 6,867 clinical faculty included in the report, 51% have both a fixed and a variable income component. It should be emphasized that the table in this report labeled "Base + Variable Salary" does not include partially reported income. The reports designated "Base Salary Only" include all reported base salaries, however, regardless of whether an accompanying variable salary component has been reported.

There were 722 faculty members who were reported as GFT in basic science departments. Because of possible definitional problems with this group, they have been excluded from the present report.

An accounting of the actual faculty members included in this report, considering tha above mentioned deletions, is shown in the following table.

NUMBER OF RESPONSES TO 1973-74 FACULTY SALARY SURVEY BY TYPE OF DEPARTMENT AND NATURE OF APPOINTMENT

	TOTAL	BASIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT	CLINICAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT
SFT	17,206	6,268	10,938
SFT Affiliated	1,780	120	1,660
GFT	7,589	722	6,867
GFT Affiliated	1,255	51	1,204
Subtotal	27,830	7,161	20,669
Less Affiliated Faculty	24,795	6,990	17,805
Less GFT Basic Science Faculty	24,073	6,268	17,805

Although regional and ownership subgroupings of salary data are contained in this report, care should be exercised in attributing significant salary differences to the different groups. Observed differences will in many cases not be statistically significant.

Care has been taken to preserve the confidentiality of individual salaries. When a single salary occurs in any one cell in the report's tables, the salary statistics are left blank. This individual salary, however, is included in the computations for the summary data.

Of particular concern to some survey participants was the omission of indicators of degree type, particularly for clinical science positions in some departments at the lower ranks. It is likely that faculty with less than the doctoral degree are included to some extent in this survey as in past surveys, and there may also be some departments with both M.D. and Ph. D. faculty. An analysis is underway to identify the parameters of this problem. Additional analyses to be undertaken in the months ahead will include a review of trends, effects of an inflationary environment, and analysis focusing upon the relationship of salary variables to other institutional variables.

NATURE OF EMPLOYMENT DEFINITIONS

The definitions of full-time and part-time salaried medical school faculty comprise the following classes of faculty:

SFT A. Strict full-time medical school faculty are those who receive their entire professional income as a fixed annual amount from funds controlled by the medical school or its parent institution, who devote their full time to the programs of the medical school, and whose professional activities are under the direct auspices of the medical school.

SFTA B. Strict full-time affiliated faculty are those who receive their entire professional income as a fixed annual amount from one or a variety of sources (medical school, parent institution, owned or affiliated institutions and their parents), devote their full time to the programs of the medical school, but whose professional activities are not under the direct auspices of the medical school.

GFT C. Geographic full-time medical school faculty are those who receive a guaranteed base salary all or most of which is paid from funds controlled by the medical school, but who may earn income from professional activities, who conduct all of their professional work in the institution(s) paying the base salary, and whose professional activities are under the direct auspices of the medical school.

GFTA D. Geographic full-time affiliated faculty are those who receive a guaranteed base salary and who are paid their base salary from one or a variety of sources (usually affiliated hospitals) and may earn some income from professional activities, and whose professional activities are not under the direct auspices of the medical school.

PTS E. Part-time salaried medical school faculty are those who receive regular payment for part-time professional activity from funds controlled by the medical school, and whose professional activities are under the direct auspices of the medical school. (Other professional activities and other income are outside the jurisdiction of the medical school.)

PTSA F. Part-time salaried affiliated faculty are those who receive regular payment for part-time professional activity by a medical school-owned or affiliated hospital or institution, and whose professional activities are not under the direct auspices of the medical school. (Other professional activities and other income are outside the jurisdiction of the institution(s) from which reimbursement is received.)
